D Square Energy Systems Announces New Portland-area Office
*New Location Expands Company Reach across Northwest into Oregon

North Bend, WA – January 25, 2010 – D Square Energy Systems, the largest independent stand-by power generator dealer in the Pacific Northwest, is pleased to announce the opening of its Portland, Oregon-area office. The facility, located in Clackamas, extends the direct reach of D Square Energy Systems throughout the Oregon-area market. Similar to the company's Washington State headquarters, the new facility will focus exclusively on installing, repairing and maintaining generators for the commercial, industrial and residential markets. Late last year D Square was elevated to elite status as an industrial dealer with Generac Power Systems, Inc., and expanded its Generac industrial offerings to include Modular Power Systems (MSP), Gemini® and Bi-Fuel™ generators. D Square branch manager Darrel Watson, who brings more than 30 years of generator experience to his position, will lead the Oregon-based team.

“Our expansion into Oregon reinforces our strong commitment to the Pacific Northwest, and we look forward to showing engineers throughout the region the value of aligning with an organization that offers an exclusive, generator-only focus and approach,” stated D Square Energy Systems President Don Dunavant.

D Square will sponsor an open house at the Clackamas facility in early 2009 to introduce area engineers and contractors to its services and team. Focused exclusively on the generator business for more than 20 years, D Square provides a single source solution from its large, growing and expertly trained team.
